

-=Magid Arcology Urban Farm=-

Proudly Hosts

The Zebaleen Fire Festival!

On the weekend of Feb 4th to 6th 2011

Location: Magid Arcology Urban Farm

-We will honor the City, the farm that is about to revert to life and we shall also recognize the work of those we call the Zebaleen – artists and tradespeople who salvage and (re)build

The Festival will feature Drummers, Singers, Musicians and various Performers, Pyrotechnicians, Craftspeople, Artists and Technologists.

Refreshment Stalls and Vendors, competitions and other diversions are welcomed.

Please contact Davin Coultier, c/o The Magid Arcology Center for Bookings and Further Information.

Please note that, although not intended as a purely religious event, the date is significant. This festival will mark the start of Spring, halfway between the winter solstice and the vernal equinox. For Americans, it roughly corresponds to Groundhog Day, when tradition has it that if a groundhog sees its shadow outside the burrow at dawn, there will be six more weeks of winter.
